

Character Breakdown

JENNA: a soulful waitress in her thirties, pours herself into the pies she makes.

BECKY: the oldest waitress at Joe's Diner, irreverent, irascible, been there, made it back, and somehow kept her sense of humor.

DAWN: a waitress at Joe's Diner, socially awkward, a bit of a nerd, loves an ordered world, she has spent too much time alone watching The History Channel.

DR. POMATTER: a gynecologist in his early 30's, genuinely warm, if clumsy, in manner, recently moved to town from Connecticut

EARL: Jenna's husband, he peaked in high school, he is almost a talented musician and that "almost" has haunted him his whole life, publicly Earl is all charm, but privately, Jenna gets the brunt of his unhappiness

CAL: the cook at Joe's Diner, a "guy's guy" surrounded by gals- brusque, unsentimental but somehow utterly charming.

OGIE: a channing, irresistible nerd, 32, a tax auditor, an amateur magician, competitive clog dancer, has all his hair, has a kind smile, loves poetry, Pavarotti, and puzzles.

JOE: a feisty, older curmudgeon with a hard shell but a buttercream center, owns Joe's Diner.

FRANCINE POMATTER: Doctor Pomatter's wife, a resident at the local hospital.

NURSE NORMA: a nurse who works at Doctor Pomatter's office.

ENSEMBLE: Jenna's Mother, Jenna's Father, Joe's Diner Customers and more.